

Please do not change the present rules limiting TV station ownership. The problem with commercial TV is NOT due to ownership but to the networks lack of providing good quality programming. The public watches the cable and satellite channels because they provide what the public wants not the trash teh networks give. All we need is another version of the Clear Channel one thing fits all mentality in TV. The relaxed rules ruined commercial radio; do you really want to do the same with TV?

Sincerely,
William B. MacLane